

Work Health and Safety Management System Procedure

1 Purpose

To define the purpose context approval pathway and exception authority, for the Work Health and Safety Policy, Procedures, guidelines, and guidance material.

2 Scope

This Procedure is applicable to all University Members, Students, Researchers and other persons at a University Workplace and must be read in conjunction with the Work Health and Safety Policy.

3 Procedure Overview

This Procedure details the documents that support and implement the Work Health and Safety Policy through the provision of mandatory minimum requirements to ensure health and safety risks are systematically managed.

The Work Health and Safety Policy, approved by the University Council, is the primary safety document that provides high level direction from the Council on the University's safety principles and individual and group responsibilities.

4 Procedures

4.1 Work Health and Safety Procedures

The Work Health and Safety (WHS) Procedures are developed as provided by the University's Policy Framework and are approved by the Vice-Chancellor.

The WHS Procedures are based on legislative requirements and relevant Codes of Practice to assist those people with specific responsibilities to comply with the duties prescribed by the relevant Act or Regulations. These procedures are documents that define the mandatory minimum requirements to be followed to ensure health and safety risks are systematically managed.

These procedures provide a clear set of WHS expectations to enable a consistent and efficient approach across the University.

Compliance with the WHS Procedures is mandatory unless a Risk Management Plan detailing the requested exception is approved by the Vice-Chancellor.

4.2 Work Health and Safety Guidelines

The Work Health and Safety (WHS) Guidelines form part of the UniSQ Work Health and Safety Management System (UniSQ Safety Framework) and are based on legislative requirements and relevant Codes of Practice to assist those people with specific responsibilities to comply with the duties prescribed by the relevant Act and/or Regulations.

The WHS Guidelines are subordinate to the WHS Procedures and define the minimum mandatory requirements to be followed to ensure health and safety risks are systematically managed.

The WHS Guidelines are additionally responsive to regulatory changes that impact on the Work Health and Safety Management System (UniSQ Safety Framework). The WHS Guidelines are approved through the University Safety Committee, ensuring Framework functionality can be readily maintained.

Compliance with the WHS Guidelines is mandatory unless a Risk Management Plan detailing the requested exceptions is approved by the Delegate for the specific Guideline.

4.3 Work Health and Safety guidance material

In circumstances where it is not appropriate to develop and publish WHS Procedures or WHS Guidelines, the University may publish direction and instruction in the form of WHS guidance material on the University Website or UConnect.

Compliance with the WHS guidance material may be achieved by following another method which aligns with WHS Risk Management principles, if it provides an equivalent or higher standard of work health and safety than the guidance material.
