1 Purpose

PLEASE NOTE: All human resource management policy instruments are currently under review to ensure alignment with the new Enterprise Agreement. Contact the People Portfolio for more information.

To provide opportunities to recognise and reward Employees for their contribution, commitment, and service to the University.

2 Scope

This Procedure applies to all University professional and academic Employees.

3 Procedure Overview

This Procedure outlines the process for the recognition and reward of Employees for their contribution, commitment, and service to the University.

4 Procedures

The Employee Recognition and Reward Program provides informal and formal mechanisms to recognise and reward Employees for exceptional work performance, service and contribution to the achievement of the University's goals and strategic priorities.

4.1 Informal recognition

4.1.1 Corporate program

All Employees are encouraged to provide informal recognition to their colleagues to recognise the positive contributions of others in the workplace. Colleagues can include other Employees, Supervisors, or teams. Recognition and acknowledgement is encouraged multi-directionally and cross-institutionally.

In addition, the People Portfolio manages a corporate recognition program that empowers Employees with a range of options to acknowledge colleagues for their contributions to the University. Further Information and guidelines regarding the program are available on the University's Recognition and Reward website.

4.1.2 Work area initiatives

In addition to the corporate recognition program in 4.1.1, the University also encourages the use of other recognition initiatives at the discretion of the work area.

The University acknowledges that an effective way of recognising Employees can be by way of a one off non-cash gift, or small incentive of a personal nature, to the Value of less than $300 (inclusive of GST) in accordance with relevant taxation legislation.

Any costs associated with these initiatives must be budgeted for, and funded by, the relevant cost centre. There is no central University provision for such initiatives.

4.2 Formal recognition - recognition of service

Employees will be formally recognised for their service to the University in a manner commensurate with their period of service. Acknowledgement will be made in an appropriate form and forum, as outlined in the Employee Recognition of Service Schedule.

An Employee's period of service is defined as paid service to the University and includes any period of paid leave.

Paid service includes continuing, fixed-term and casual employment.

No service prior to January 1967 will be recognised.

4.3 Formal recognition - Excellence Awards

Formal recognition of Employees' contribution, commitment, and service is provided through a variety of Excellence Awards, usually presented at a formal event.

Excellence Awards normally consist of a financial grant and a certificate.

Excellence Award categories are provided in the Employee Excellence Awards Schedule.

4.3.1 Application, assessment and approval process

4.3.1.1 Application

All Employees are eligible to apply for any Excellence Award. Each Excellence Award will be given to the applicant who best meets the selection criteria for each Excellence Award as outlined in the relevant guidelines. Guidelines can be accessed via the University's Recognition and Reward website.

The University will advertise for nominations. Unless indicated otherwise, nominations may be from individuals or teams and can be made by:

- self-nomination (supported by the nominee's Supervisor);
- Supervisors or other Delegates; or
- colleagues.

Nominations of eligible Employees must be made on the relevant application form and submitted by the advertised due date. Nominations must clearly set out the significance and relevance of the nomination by addressing the appropriate selection criteria. Please refer to the relevant guidelines when submitting an application for an Excellence Award.

4.3.1.2 Assessment

All applications will be reviewed by an appropriately constituted assessment panel.

Panels will normally consist of a minimum of three members and will contain an appropriate gender mix.

Any panel member who supervises, has nominated, or acts as a referee for, a candidate for the Excellence Award must declare their Conflict of Interest and not participate in deliberation or voting in relation to that nominee.

The assessment panel will evaluate the merits of all Excellence Award nominations against the relevant selection criteria and provide a recommendation to the Vice-Chancellor for approval.

The University is not obliged to present any Excellence Award or medal every year. The assessment panel may decline to recommend an Excellence Award recipient if, in its assessment, there are no nominations of sufficient merit.

4.3.1.3 Approval

The panel chair will provide a recommended recipient to the Vice-Chancellor.

4.3.2 Financial grant terms and conditions

Employees must expend the full financial grant within 12 months of receipt.

The awarded financial grant can only be used for professional development and associated Expenditure, to be expended in accordance with all University Policy Instruments, with monetary payments allocated to a separate project account within the relevant cost centre.

Acceptable categories of Expenditure for professional development specifically relating to each of the Excellence Awards are outlined in the guidelines on the relevant website.

4.4 Other initiatives

The University also utilises a range of performance rewards, learning and development initiatives, and on-the-job career development opportunities to reward Employees for exceptional performance. These programs are out of the scope of this Procedure and may include accelerated incremental progression, additional increments, academic promotion, and attraction and retention allowances and loadings. Employees are referred to the relevant Policies and Procedures for further Information.
