

Fraud and Corruption Management Policy

1 Purpose

To provide the framework to sustain an organisational culture resistant to Fraud and Corruption.

2 Scope

This policy applies to University Members.

3 Policy Statement

The University recognises Fraud and Corruption control is a key component of its integrity framework to mitigate the risk of unacceptable costs or losses associated with its operations.

Consistent with the law and the University's Code of Conduct, the objectives of the integrity framework are to:

- foster ethical conduct throughout the University and its activities;
- protect the University's interests, assets and reputation;
- uphold a transparent integrated approach to prevent, detect and respond to Fraud and Corruption matters; and to
- encourage, support and protect individuals who report suspected Fraud and Corruption activity.

To that end, the University adopts a zero-tolerance approach to Fraud and Corruption across all of the University's activities. This requires University Members to not only be responsible for their own behaviour but to support others to embrace ethical practice.

4 Principles

1. Mitigation of Fraud and Corruption risk can only occur through the development of a Fraud and Corruption control framework involving a high level of governance and management direction.
2. Effective control involves identifying the University's key Fraud and Corruption risks.

3. To safeguard all aspects of the University's performance, an integrated control framework will be established to minimise and manage Fraud and Corruption risk.
4. Monitoring and review of the internal controls should be a normal part of the management process that can inform the development of an independent review and audit program.
5. Robust mechanisms will be established to encourage and support the reporting of suspected cases of Fraud or Corruption by individuals from within and outside the University, including anonymous reports.
6. All reasonable measures will be taken to support a person who discloses suspected Fraud and Corruption, and provide protection from reprisal as a result of making a disclosure.
7. Allegations of Fraud or Corruption will be assessed, and where the pertinent criteria are established, a matter will be reported to the relevant external body including the:
 - a. Crime and Corruption Commission [section 38, 48A of the Crime and Corruption Act 2001]
 - b. Queensland Ombudsman [sections 33, 58 of the Public Interest Disclosure Act 2010]
 - c. Queensland Audit Office [section 21(3) of the Financial Management Practice Manual]
 - d. Queensland Police Service [section 21(3)(c) of the Financial Management Practice Manual]
8. Procedures defining the roles, responsibilities, authority and powers delegated to management and investigators will be used to determine the investigation approach commensurate with the nature and seriousness of a matter.
9. The Employee induction and annual refresher program will include addressing Fraud and Corruption risk topics.
