Educational Partnerships Policy

1 Purpose

To set out broad principles that underpin the establishment, management and governance of educational partnerships between the University and third parties.

2 Scope

This policy applies to educational partnerships including, but not limited to:

- Third Party Coursework Program delivery arrangements;
- Coursework Dual Awards and Joint Degrees;
- Articulation Arrangements; and
- Study support centres located both within Australia and offshore.

The policy does not apply to Credit Transfer Arrangements, collaborative Research, licensing and Student mobility arrangements.

3 Policy Statement

The University will establish educational partnership arrangements with a broad range of organisations both in Australia and overseas to enhance the quality of the University's educational offerings and delivery.

The University is accountable for the quality of any education, training or services delivered on its behalf by a partner organisation and for compliance with all relevant aspects of the Higher Education Standards Framework (Threshold Standards) 2021.

4 Principles

The University will only establish educational partnership arrangements where the choice of partner and arrangement type:

• complements and aligns with the University's vision, values and strategic priorities;

- builds on the partner's demonstrated record of academic credibility suitable to the type of arrangement;
- is likely to enhance the domestic and/or international reputation of the University; and
- strategically aligns with the University's existing and prospective partnership arrangements.

The relevant governance, due diligence and approval requirements, commensurate with the nature, scale and purpose of the arrangement, must be met before entering into any educational partnership or collaboration.

All educational partnerships require a written agreement between the parties. These may range from detailed binding contractual agreements to preliminary non-binding memoranda of understanding, as appropriate for the stage of discussions, type of arrangement and the range of activities.

At a minimum, agreements must specify the purpose of the agreement, outline the roles and responsibilities of all relevant parties and include a timeline for monitoring and review of the agreement, commensurate with the level of complexity and risk associated with the type of agreement.

Partnership agreements must comply with any legislative, regulatory or government policy requirements that apply to the activities governed by, or related to, those agreements.

International education partnership agreements must comply with the Education Services for Overseas Students (ESOS) Act 2000 and the National Code of Practice for Providers of Education and Training to Overseas Students 2018 (The National Code).

All partnerships resulting in Articulation Arrangements or Credit Transfer Arrangements must be consistent with the requirements of the Australian Qualifications Framework.

All Third Party Arrangements must be formalised using a legally binding agreement approved by the Legal Office. As a minimum, the agreement will set out:

- the specific goals and expected benefits of the arrangement;
- the scope and extent of the functions being undertaken by the Third Party Provider and the rights and responsibilities of the University and the Provider in respect of the quality of education and any services delivered on its behalf;
- staffing arrangements, where relevant, including required qualifications and/or professional experience in the relevant discipline;
- the schedule of periodic audits, agreed by the University and the Third Party Provider, to ensure adequate performance against the deliverables of the agreement and compliance with the relevant requirements of the Higher Education Standards Framework (Threshold Standards) 2021 for the types of activity involved;

- marketing and promotional activities, and ensuring that representation of the University's educational offerings and fees is accurate and not misleading;
- arrangements for amendments to the agreement, renewal and termination of agreement including provisions for teach-out, support and transition arrangements for Students; and
- the dispute resolution process.

The agreement must not constrain the University in making changes to its programs and Courses as part of its normal business processes.

CRICOS registration or notification to the Tertiary Education Quality and Standards Agency (TEQSA) must be initiated by UniSQ International where delivery involves International Students. Registration or approval must be received from TEQSA before any International Student can access any aspect of the Third Party Arrangement and this prerequisite should appear in all written contractual arrangements.

All programs and Courses, irrespective of delivery mode and location, must be accredited in accordance with the Program Accreditation Procedure, and must comply with all laws of the country where the program is offered.

University policies, procedures, processes and guidelines related to teaching, learning, Courses, programs, conduct and Student support will apply to Students and staff in Third Party Arrangements, unless an exception is approved by the Provost.
