4 Principles

4.1 Prevention principles

Prevention is a shared responsibility that involves everyone. The University:

1. Expects Students and University Members to behave in a way that promotes a safe and inclusive learning and working environment.
2. Will use prevention strategies including education, awareness-raising, provision of information, capacity-building, counselling and other supports to promote respectful behaviour.
3. Encourages and values Active Bystander intervention by Students and University Members to prevent or stop Discrimination, Bullying, Harassment and Sexual Misconduct from occurring or continuing.
4. Expects leaders and managers to champion culture change, to take measures to improve diversity and inclusion, to set clear expectations and to model respectful behaviour in their interactions at work.

4.2 Support principles

The University will provide support and advice to Students and University Members affected by Discrimination, Bullying, Harassment or Sexual Misconduct. In doing so, the University will:

1. Respond to reports or disclosures in a manner that is compassionate, timely and supportive, and provide access to specialist support and advice.
2. Prioritise the wellbeing of a Student or University Member disclosing or reporting incidents, underpinned by a “safety for all” approach when responding to any report or disclosure, when seeking a resolution and when addressing any formal Complaints.

3. Aim to promote a University-wide commitment to following a Trauma-informed response in managing disclosures and reports to minimise further harm or trauma.

4.3 Disclosure and reporting principles

Stronger reporting enhances accountability and responsibility and allows the University to monitor and improve systems and responses. The University:

1. Encourages individuals to report incidents they have experienced or witnessed and provides diverse reporting options, ranging from informal disclosure to anonymous reporting and the lodgment of formal Complaints.
2. Aims to respect the choice of an individual to make a confidential disclosure or to make a report. However, in respect of a confidential disclosure the University may need to take action when there is an unacceptable level of risk of further harm to the individual or to others, or to comply with mandatory reporting obligations such as those prescribed by child safety legislation. The University will inform the individual as soon as possible if it needs to do so.
3. Will not tolerate Victimisation in relation to disclosures or Complaints, or against an individual engaging in Active Bystander intervention.
4. Will carry out the Complaint resolution process in good faith and Complaints that are frivolous, vexatious, misconceived or lacking in substance will be rejected if a preliminary investigation of the facts indicates this.

4.4 Response principles

In responding to incidents, the focus will be on the health and wellbeing of the individuals involved, providing support and education and, as far as possible, providing meaningful outcomes for affected individuals. The University will:

1. Respond in a manner informed by the nature of the experience and led by considerations of the needs of the individual who experienced the incident.
2. Take disclosures and reports seriously and investigate where appropriate with reference to the relevant University Code of Conduct and supporting Policies and Procedures.
3. Follow the principles of Procedural Fairness as required.
4. Respond appropriately to suspected perpetrators of Discrimination, Bullying, Harassment or Sexual Misconduct including to ensure they are also treated fairly and are provided with information about relevant support services.

5. Keep Students or University Members who disclose or report an incident informed of any action taken in relation to their disclosure, report or Complaint and the expected timelines for resolution.
6. Manage Student or Employee misconduct according to the relevant Policies and Procedures, where an allegation of Discrimination, Bullying, Harassment or Sexual Misconduct is proven.

4.5 Record-keeping

The University will:

1. Keep appropriate and confidential records of all disclosures and Complaints.
2. Monitor and improve responses.
3. Provide de-identified annual reports to Council detailing outcomes, recommendations, trends, and emerging issues related to this Policy.
